ABOUT THE SFSPCA... South Florida Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals
-Horse Rescue

The SFSPCA is a 501(c) (3) non-profit organization that has been rescuing, rehabilitating, and finding permanent homes for horses and other farm animals for the past 19 years.

During these difficult economic times, large animals are in jeopardy of abandonment and starvation. Rescue efforts and costs have increased at an alarming rate and providing food, shelter and medical care for up to 50 horses at a time is extremely costly.

“To me, the horse is in and of itself a great work of art”, stated Jeanette Jordan, president of SFSPCA. “To have the art community recognize their beauty as well as their great need is a blessing.”

Freedom’s Flight is a thoroughbred that was rescued by the SFSPCA from an illegal slaughter farm and later immortalized by artist Virginia Fifield; but in addition to Freedom’s happy ending, there are so many other horses that continue to be rescued; horses that without the SFSPCA would remain in desperate situations, or face certain death.

Much of SFSPCA’s horse care is provided by volunteers. This event will help SFSPCA continue their vital mission in our community.
